Department of Community and Therapeutic Recreation
School of Health and Human Sciences
University of North Carolina at Greensboro

Faculty Meeting

Friday, December 5, 2014; 8:30 – 10:30 am; TR Lab

MINUTES

1. TR Faculty Search Update
   • The search committee continues to review applications and speak with prospective faculty applicants. A date/time was set for grad students to meet with the search committee.

2. Graduate Program
   • Full-Time Status is now 9 credit hours for graduate students, unless they have an assistantship. In that case it remains 6 credit hours for full time status.
   • Low Enrollment Courses: A new policy in HHS sets minimum enrollments for class size. Grad classes must have at least 5 students, undergrad courses must have at least 15 students. CTR classes that have less than the minimum enrollment will be cancelled.
   • Dean Hooper & Associate Dean Demo Funding have announced $35,000 in funding for Graduate Students for Travel Awards and Summer Assistantships. The due date is Jan 16th for applications.

A. Graduate Curriculum
   • Faculty discussed the Post-Baccalaureate Certificate Programs: Animal-Assisted Therapy; Geriatric Recreation Therapy. The moratorium/SACS Policy states that these programs can be left in a pending state for 5 years.
   • The Community Recreation Management Concentration/Core was revisited for:
     CTR 511 – Seminar in Recreation and Parks
     CTR 646 – Seminar: Community Recreation Management (low enrollment)
     CTR 489/589 – Special Topics: Parks, Recreation, and Health (revise to CTR 589)

3. CTR Budget: Advising/Internship Assistance
   • Faculty discussed the idea of hiring someone to teach CTR 417 for spring 15 since there are so many students completing internships in Sp 15. Lindsey Oakes may be able to be hired for this task.
4. Guest – Nita Albrecht, Associate Director, Undergraduate Admissions visited with ideas to recruit undergraduate students, including Boot Camps for faculty to visit with Admission employees to discuss our program, items of interest to mail to prospective students and their parents, and a departmental marketing fair.