Faculty Meeting

Friday, September 19, 2014; 8:30 – 10:30 am; TR Lab

MINUTES

1. UNCG Items: Canvas migration; Budget
   • UNCG will be moving all courses from Blackboard to Canvas beginning in summer 2015. For this reason, faculty should not develop any new courses in Blackboard.
   • Dr. Schleien plans to request a meeting with Jim Eddy regarding SERVE courses for summer 15 for CTR 102.
   • Budget information regarding part-time faculty will be due soon. Faculty will review the course list for 2014-15.

2. TR Faculty Search
   • Drs. Bedini, Gladwell, and Bruton will head up the TR search committee. The search will be added to the November and December meetings. Faculty decided it would be ok to recruit faculty who are only teaching at the bachelor level.
   • Amy will check the UNCG application system to see if there anyone has started an application and print out any documents that have been uploaded to date.

3. Upcoming Conferences
   • Faculty will speak with individuals at the NCRPA and NRPA Conferences regarding the TR faculty search.
   • CTR will discuss dates at the Oct meeting for an alumni luncheon/breakfast/dinner. Amy will contact Jennifer Kraftchick, who lives in Charlotte, for her opinion on The Ale House. Potential time for an alumni dinner is Oct 15th from 5:30-7:30 pm at The Ale House.

4. Web Page
   • Amy will begin migration of the CTR website to a Wordpress format. Ideas for the site include a Facebook page, LinkedIn, and other social media.
5. Student Scholarships and Scholarship

- CTR has been given the Riley Travel, and Pacesetter Awards for next year. The Riley awardee can be named next fall, since the award is for a graduate student traveling to conferences. The awardee must be presenting a paper or receiving an award. Faculty will discuss names at the next meeting for the Pacesetter Award.

6. UGRO

- UGRO and the CTR Club will be having its annual canned food drive. Donations of food for money must be received by October 30th.

7. Accreditation/Curriculum

- CTR will be getting ready for next year’s review of accreditation materials. CTR 315, 417, and 697 fieldwork manuals need to be updated for accreditation purposes. Nancy will again head up the review and will be asking faculty/staff for help in gathering information.
